2.00 pm – 2.30 pm	“Corporate Ethics and the New Capitalism” By Willie Cheng, Chairman, Catholic Foundation There is a resurgence of ethics in corporations. Much of it is a response to corporate scandals and the consequent regulations. At the same time, there is a new capitalism emerging, one driven by values and not just value, and focused on stakeholders and not just shareholders. Willie Cheng, a veteran board director, will discuss the trends and how moral capitalism is manifesting in CSR 2.0, social enterprises, inclusive businesses and impact investing.

2.30 pm – 3.00 pm	“Discovering the Will of God for Me in the Marketplace: Perspectives from Youths” By Mark Tang, Co-Founder ParablesGifts & Board Member, Caritas Singapore; and Audrey Tan, Co-Founder, Circles of Angels & Co-Founder, Playmoolah Youths are faced with a myriad of issues that include: How to align faith with life in a secular environment? When is it time to change jobs or live out God’s plan for us? Money, power and success vs. a life of meaning? How do we hear God’s call? Mark and Audrey will address these hot button issues for youths.
3.00 pm – 3.30 pm	Coffee Break
3.30 pm – 4.45 pm	Q&A Panel: “Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Faith+Work But Were Afraid To Ask!” Moderator: John Antony Managing Director, Antony Consulting Panellists: Andrew Sng, Asia Managing Director, DPI & Board Member, Catholic Foundation Dr John Hui, Deputy Chairman, Archdiocesan Commission for the Family Sr Wendy Ooi, FSP & Board Member Caritas Peggy Yee, President, Catholic Lawyers’ Guild Gerald Lee, Office for Young People The conference wraps up with an interactive session with a select panel of leaders involved in the different parts of work and life in the Catholic archdiocese even as they are plugged into the outside world. He serves the Church in various ministries viz., facilitating faith formation of children; promoting Carmelite Spirituality; championing Catholic Social Teachings; assisting with the technological needs of several church organisations; and journeying with a young adult community in their faith formation. His social mission work revolves around befriending homeless persons, journeying with children from low-income families, and partnering the poor with Caritas Singapore, the social mission arm of the Catholic Church in Singapore.

1.30 PM "In Conversation with Tony Tay, Founder, Willing Hearts"
Host: Mr Michael Phoon, Executive Director, Singapore Shipping Association

Mr Tony Tay
Founder, Willing Hearts
Recipient of Ramon Magsaysay Award 2017

In 2003, Mr Tay began serving the needy by providing meals from his home, continuing the legacy of his late mother. Willing Hearts was registered in 2005. Since then, a typical work day begins at 5.30 am at the soup kitchen where he works tirelessly to prepare food and supervise the distribution of about 6,500 meals per day. Afternoons are spent meeting with corporate donors, educational institutions, government officials, media and food suppliers. He is often invited by corporations and educational institutions to talk about his experiences in running Willing Hearts. He takes each day's challenges in stride, confident that "With God on our side", all obstacles can be overcome.

In 2017, Mr Tay was a recipient of the prestigious Ramon Magsaysay Award, becoming one of only three Singaporean awardees to date.

Married to Mary, he has three grown-up children each with successful careers, and is blessed with 9 grandchildren.

Host: Mr Michael Phoon
